Famous Grand Opera Star Stops for Half an Hour at Noon With Company on Way to Coast.

INDIANS AID ARTISTE IN EFFECTIVE POSING

Mme. Tetrazzini, famous grand opera star, was in Albuquerque this morning for half an hour with her manager, William Leahy, and a company of ten people, several of them noted singers, with whom the diva is to tour the principal cities of the Pacific coast. The company is traveling on the California Limited and will go to Grand Canyon where the great singer proposes to make the trip down the Bright Angel trail if weather conditions permit.

This morning while the train stopped there Mme. Tetrazzini had her picture taken alone and posed with a number of Pueblo Indians. Arrangements had been made in advance for Madame to pose and several plates were made by W. H. Walton of Albuquerque. The pictures were desired by the singer for her own use and also will be used by the Santa Fe railway and by her manager in advertising the present Pacific coast tour.

Efforts have been made to dissuade Madame from making the trip down the canyon, but thus far without avail. The great singer declared this morning emphatically that unless the trail were absolutely impossible she proposed to make the trip. The party will spend two days at the El Tever hotel.

Photographer Karl Moon, with the Harvey system at the canyon, is to make a number of photographs of the singer with the picturesque canyon scenery as background.

Madame Tetrazzini is on a concert tour of the west and south. She will remain at Grand Canyon for a few days and will then go on to Los Angeles and San Francisco for three weeks. After that she will visit New Orleans, Dallas and other large southern cities, gradually working north and east.

While here a large number of pictures were taken of Madame Tetrazzini, both by Mr. Walton and by amateurs who worked their Kodaks overtime to get the pictures. The posed photographs were taken with the Indians from the Harvey curio rooms, Temple and Elle of Canada, and several attractive youngsters being the main features aside from the great singer herself.

Lantern slides are to be made of these pictures and sent to the singer's home in Switzerland where they will be shown in the private exhibition room recently built for her. Madame Tetrazzini is a great lover of western subjects and her American agents purchase for her all the films of Indians and cowboys they can.

More Trouble for George.

London, Feb. 26.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the suffragette leader, has written to the king asking him to receive a deputation from the Women's Social and Political Union to lay before him their claim for the parliamentary vote and their complaint of "the medieval and barbarous methods of torture whereby your majesty's ministers are seeking to repress the women's revolt against their deprivation of citizens' rights."

Mrs. Pankhurst argues that it is futile to seek interviews with the ministers, because they are the men the union accuses of betraying the women's cause and torturing its champions, and also because the women refuse to recognize the authority of men who are elected or appointed to office without their consent. She concludes:

"Because women are without the vote, there are in our midst today sweat workers, white-slaves, outraged children and innocent mothers and their babes stricken with horrible disease. It is for the sake and in the name of those unhappy members of our sex that we ask your majesty for an audience, and we are confident that it will be granted to us."
